Great for home and small business use

ViaVoice and Computer Accessibility

ViaVoice affords a 'multi-modal' computer input environment, freeing users from dependence on the keyboard and mouse for many applications. Standard Edition users who enter data more rapidly by speaking than by typing can be more productive.

Why to Buy IBM:

- Over 40 years of speech recognition research and development
- Over 150 speech technology patents
- Millions of IBM voice products shipped worldwide, in over 10 languages
- Award-winning products on the Windows, Linux and Macintosh® desktop platforms, plus voice enablement of e-business and the mobile Internet
- A complete product portfolio for Windows users, with Release 10 offerings appealing to every budget and every level of voice recognition expertise
- Recognition throughout the world for excellence in design and function of ViaVoice products and technology:

IBM®

ViaVoice® for Windows® 10

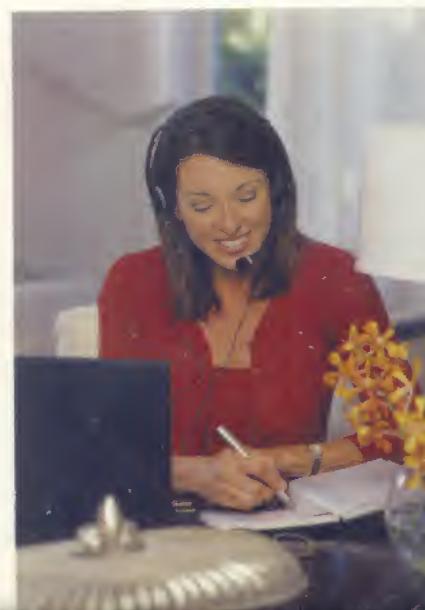

Standard Edition Release

With great dictation and voice command accuracy, Standard Edition is a versatile speech recognition product at home in the small / home office environment – or just at home.

- Use ViaVoice SpeakPad and Microsoft Word 2002, 2000 and 97 to dictate text for letters, reports, memos, faxes and emails*
- Say voice commands to format, edit and correct your dictation
- Transfer your SpeakPad documents easily to other text-based applications
- Use voice commands to navigate Internet Explorer
- Create dictation 'voice shortcuts' to insert blocks of text – such as greetings, addresses, salutations, and quotes – directly into your dictation documents
- VoiceCenter is the 'command central' of ViaVoice – now you can customize the size, look and placement of VoiceCenter on your desktop
- A new speech engine with improved background noise adaptation can lead to greater dictation accuracy
- 300,000 vocabulary and backup dictionary words
- Add customized addresses, names, acronyms, terms and colloquialisms to the vocabulary
- Optional enrollment allows for quick and easy setup
- Includes stereo headset microphone

"In the quest to simplify my office paperwork, I've tried numerous programs. ViaVoice is a remarkably versatile product, allowing my notes to be original and spontaneous." — Dr. Don Counihan Jr., Lisle, Illinois,

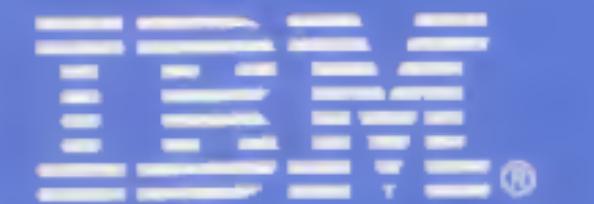

using Pro USB edition, Release 9

* Requires Internet or Intranet access which must be obtained separately.

 Applies to U.S. English vocabulary.

 Enclosed headset microphone may differ from headset microphone shown.
